The Chinese Government having (through the Hon. Anson Burlingame) conceded to this Company the privilege of connecting the great seaports of the Empire by submarine electric telegraph cable, we propose commencing operations in China, and laying down a line of nine hundred miles at once, between the following ports, viz:

	Population.
Canton	1,000,000
Macoa	60,000
Hong-Kong	250,000
Swatow	200,000
Amoy	250,000
Foo-Chow	1,250,000
Wan-Chu	300,000
Ningpo	400,000
Hang Chean	1,200,000
Shanghai	1,000,000
Total	5,910,000

These ports have a foreign commerce of $900,000,000, and an enormous domestic trade, besides which we have the immense internal commerce of the Empire, radiating from these points, through its canals and navigable rivers.

The cable being laid, this company proposes erecting land lines, and establishing a speedy and trustworthy means of communication, which must command there, as everywhere else, the communications of the Government, of business, and of social life especially in China. She has no postal system, and her only means now of communicating information is by couriers on land, and by steamers on water.

The Western World knows that China is a very large country, in the main densely peopled; but few yet realize that she contains more than a third of the human race. The latest returns made to her central authorities for taxing purposes by the local magistrate make her population Four hundred and Fourteen millions, and this is more likely to be under than over the actual aggregate. Nearly all of these, who are over ten years old, not only can but do read and write. Her civilization is peculiar, but her literature is as extensive as that of Europe. China is a land of teachers and traders; and the latter are exceedingly quick to avail themselves of every proffered facility for procuring early information. It is observed in California that the Chinese make great use of the telegraph, though it there transmits messages in English alone. To-day great numbers of fleet steamers are owned by Chinese merchants, and used by them exclusively for the transmission of early intelligence. If the telegraph we propose connecting all their great seaports, were now in existence, it is believed that its business would pay the cost within the first two years of its successful operation, and would steadily increase thereafter.

No enterprise commends itself as in a greater degree renumerative to capitalists, and to our whole people. It is of vast national importance commercially, politically and evangelically.

☞ The stock of this Company has been unqualifiedly recommended to capitalists and business men, as a desirable investment by editorial articles in the New York Herald, Tribune, World, Times, Post, Express, Independent, and in the Philadelphia North American, Press, Ledger, Inquirer, Age, Bulletin and Telegraph.

Shares of this company, to a limited number, may be obtained at $50 each, $10 payable down, $15 on the 1st of November, and $25 payable in monthly instalments of $2.50 each, commencing December 1, 1868, on application to

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or any thing like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for

Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate diseases of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

is entirely vegetable and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made, are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtueus are extracted from them by a scientific Chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Grange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in case where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers

ever known and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order, keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no diseases will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything, you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action in the system.

Yours Truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES TAOMPSON.

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; bnt usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eigth, below Coates Street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The Genuine have the signature of C. M. JACKSON on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

THE BARONESS AND ROBBERS

In a pretty village near Paris, but a considerable distance from the high road, was Baron R. accustomed to spend the summer. His mansion, built on an eminence, was a spacious building, both within and without, and exhibited a good style of architecture; and it was about two hundred paces from the village.

Business obliged the Baron to take a journey of a few days. His wife, but twenty years of age, and very beautiful, remained at home. He took with him two of his servants, and two others remained with the Baroness. No violation of the public security had ever been heard of in that part of the country, and as the Baroness did not belong to the timid portion of her sex, the idea of danger was far from entering her mind. The evening after the Baron's departure, as she was stepping into bed, she heard an alarming noise in an apartment near her chamber. She called out but received no answer! She was at a loss to conceive what was the matter, and hastily putting on her garments, went to the door to discover the cause. A horrible spectacle presented itself. Her two servants, half naked, were extended lifeless on the floor. The room was full of strange looking men, the Baroness' chambermaid was kneeling before one of them, and instead of the mercy she implored, she received the fatal stroke. No sooner did the door open than two barbarians, with drawn swords, rushed towards it. What woman or even man would not have been struck with the utmost terror, and given up life and everything as lost? A loud shriek of despair, a flight of a few paces would probably have been the resort of many. The Baroness, however, conducted herself in a different manner.

"And you have come at last!" exclaimed she, in a tone of apparent heartfelt joy, and advancing towards her assailants with a haste that highly astonished them, they lowered their uplifted weapons.

"And you have come at last!" repeated she, "such visitors as I have often wished to see."

"Wished!" muttered one of the assassins, "what do you mean by that? But stay—I'll—"

He had already raised his cutlass, but a comrade averted the stroke. "Stay a moment, brother," said he "and let us hear what she would have."

"Nothing but what is pleasure, brave comrades. You are men after my own heart, and neither you nor I shall ever have reason to repent it if you will listen to what I have to say."

"Speak! speak!" cried the whole company.

"But be quick!" cried one of the fiercest, "for we shall not make much ceremony."

"Nevertheless I hope you will grant me a hearing; for although I am the wife of the richest gentlemen in the country, the wife of the meanest beggar cannot be more unhappy than I am. My husband is one of the most jealous and niggardly fellows on earth. I hate him, and it has long been the fervent wish of my heart to get clear of his clutches, and at the same time pay off old scores. All my servants were spies, and that fellow whose business you have done so completely, was the worst of all. I am scarcely twenty-one, and I flatter myself far from being ugly. If any of you choose to take me along with you, I'll accompany you to the woods or the village ale-house; nor shall any of you ever have cause to repent having spared my life. You are in a well stored mansion; but it is impossible that you should be acquainted with all its secret corners. These I will now show you, and if I don't make you richer by six thousand dollars, then serve me as you did my chambermaid."

Robbers of this kind are certainly villains, but nevertheless they are still men. The wholly unexpected tenderness of the Baroness, added to the more than ordinary beauty of the female, altogether produced a powerful effect on these men, whose hands were yet reeking with blood. They then all stepped aside, and consulted together in low tones for some minutes. The Baroness was left quite alone, but she betrayed not the least wish to escape.

"Let's dispatch her, and the game will be all up." She, however, scarcely changed color, for the opposition of the others did not escape her acute ear.

One who was probably captain of the banditti now approached her. He asked twice or thrice whether he might rely on what she said—whether she actually wished to be released from the tyranny of her husband, and to go with them—and whether she was willing to resign herself to one of them, to himself for instance, during the peaceful days they could enjoy. Having replied in the affirmative to all the questions—having not only suffered the warm embrace of the robber, but returned it—for what will not necessity excuse? He at length said:

"Come along then, and lead us around. The d—l trust you ladies of rank, but we will venture for once. But let me tell you, that if you were twice as handsome as you are, this weapon should cleave your skull the moment I saw the least disposition to betray us."

"Then it will be safe enough; and if this were the only condition of my being put to death, I should outlive you all, and even the wandering Jew himself."

The Baroness smiled when she pronounced these last words, and hastily caught the nearest lamp as if she was as eager as any one of them to collect the plunder and be gone. She conducted the company through every apartment, opened every door, every drawer, and every chest; assisted in packing up the valuables, looking with the utmost indifference at the mangled bodies; speaking with the familiarity of an old acquaintance to each one of the horrid troop, andassisting with her delicate hands in the most laborious occupation.

Plate, money and jewels were now collected together, and the captain of the banditti was about giving the order for marching, when his destined bride caught him by the arm.

"Did I not tell you," said she, "that you should not repent making a friend of me, and sparing my life? You may, indeed, have everytning in places that you find open, but it is a pity you cannot come to places that are concealed. What! do you suppose that among coffers so full there are no secret places? Look here, and you will be convinced to the contrary."

She pointed to a secret spring in the Baron's desk. They pressed upon it, and out fell five bags of gold coin.

"Zounds!" cried the leader of the robbers, "and I will keep you for this as a duchess!"

"And perhaps better still," she said, laughing, "when I show yon one thing more. I am well aware that you must have spies who informed you of the fifty thousand francs he received yesterday."

"Where are they?"

"Oh! safe enough, under half a dozen locks and bolts. You would certainly not have found them and the iron chest had it not been for me. Come along, comrades; we have finished above stairs, now we will see what can be done underneath. Come along with me, I say into the cellar."

The robbers followed but not without precaution. At the entrance of the cellar, secured by a strong trap door, a man was posted as sentinel. The Baroness took not the slightest notice of this. She conducted the whole troop to a vault, at the further end of the cellar. She unlocked it, and in the corner of the recess stood the chest she had described.

"Here," said she, giving the captain the bunch of keys, "unlock it, and take what you find as a wedding gift if you can obtain the consent of your comrades as readily as you gained mine."

The robber tried one key after another, but none would fit. He grew impatient and the Baroness seemed still more so.

"Lend me them," she said, "I shall find the way sooner. Indeed, if you do not make haste, the morning may overtake us. Ha! the reason why neither of us could unlock it is because I have the wrong bunch of keys. I will obtain another."

She went up stairs, and presently they heard her coming down; but she came slowly, as if out of breath with the haste she had made.

"I've found them!" cried she, at a distance. Then, coming up to within about three paces of the man who stood at the entrance of the cellar, she sprang suddenly at the wretch, who was totally unprepared for such a move, from such a quarter, and pushing him with all her might, sent him tumbling to the bottom of the stairs. This accomplished, she closed the trap door, bolted it, and thus had the whole company secured in the cellar. This was the work of a single moment. In the next she flew across the court yard, and with a candle in her hand set fire to a detached pig sty. The watchman in the neighboring village, perceiving the flames, instantly gave the alarm. In a few minutes the inhabitants were out of their beds, and a crowd of farmers, with their servants, hastened to the mansion. The Baroness waited for them in the court yard.

"A few of you will be sufficient to put out this fire and prevent it from spreading. The remainder of you will provide yourselves with arms, which you will find in abundance in my husband's armory. Post yourselves at the avenues of the cellar, and suffer not one of the robbers and murderers to escape."

Her directions were obeyed, and not one of them escaped the punishment due to his crime.

TRUTHFULNESS.

If there is one element in the constitution of moral character which should be better cultivated or more cared for than another, that element certainly is Truthfulness. Our youth, as soon as they are able to take or understand, should be taught that Truth is an outgrowth of our best nature, which alone can lead us to honorable distinction in life. To place anything about which we converse, in its proper or true light, should be the chief end of all conversation; and conversation subversive of this end is mischevious, and its votary is unworthy a place in society. And not only in our conversation but conduct, veracity should characterize our actions as well, for we can act the truth as well as speak the truth, or act falsehood as well as speak falshood.

But what is Truthfulness? First—one of its elements is correctness in ascertaining facts. This is essential to the love of Truth. We should exercise the greatest care respecting every statement which we receive as true, and not recelve it as true until we are satisfied that the authority upon which it is asserted is of such a character as not to admit of a single doubt, and that the statement contains all the facts to which our attention should be directed. Unless we are thus guarded we are often led by the outward appearance certain statements bear, to accept as true that which turns out to have no truth in it, and very likely we have not made this discovery until we have assisted in its circulation. The practice of this sincere and candid search after truth, on every subject to which the mind may be directed, ought to be cultivated in early life, with the most untiring care. It is a habit of the mind which must have a most important influence in the culture of moral and intellectual character. If we should be equally as careful in receiving correct statements, we should be equally as careful in giving correct statements.

We should weigh wel' what we are about to promulgate, and not only ascertain its Truthfulness, but also its fitness for the public ear. We should ascertain whether it is a general principle or a matter of but rare occurrence. For, sometimes, by relating a circumstance which may have happened but very rarely, we may, by our peculiar mode of stating it, convey the idea that the circumstance is general in all its bearings, when just the opposite meaning should be conveyed. Many statements though true in word, to the letter, are related in such a manner and under such circumstances as to make a false impression and to lead to false conclusion. There are certain actions in the lives of individuals, who are upright and honest, which if related under certain circumstances, would be directly opposed to uprightness and honesty. On the other hand, certain actions if made manifest would be taken as an evidence of purity and if unaccompanied by their associate actions, and an opinion of character might be formed upon a wrong basis or by a false measure. The person who has a character noted for Truthfulness will associate ideas and circumstances, and determine by this means the true bearing of every statement.—He will not only see whether it is true in the abstract, or if taken by itself whether it would be a safe guide in pronouncing judgment upon character, but he will examine every statement associated with that one which seems to be most prominent, and after thus carefully scanning it he will finally study the impression it might make if placed before the world.

Another important element in truthfulness is the fulfilling of promises to the letter. We should never make a promise when there is any natural obstacle in the way of its fulfillment. Before saying what we will do in the future, we sohuld examine well the obligations we are under, and then take upon us no obligation that would conflict with any previous one, or that would hinder the fulfillment of either. The person whose truthfulness is fully developed will fulfil every engagement at all hazards, though it be to his own detriment. In the language of the wise man, "He will swear to his own hurt, and change not."

In consideration of the above facts, would it not be well for teachers and parents to consider that to cultivate Touthfulness should be the chief end of all mental and moral discipline, and unless this end be in view all our training will be in vain.

PUNCTUALITY.—It may seem of little moment to be punctual, but to use the words of an eminent theologian, "our life is made up of little things." Our attention to them is the index of our character, often the scales by which it is weighed. Punctuality requires no undue exertion, and its influence is a most salutary one. Its cultivation seems the more important as we witness the deleterious influence of dilatoriness in habit, the evil effect of which none deny. "Better late than never," transformed into "better never late," is an excellent maxim. Whether we move in the higher walks of life, or tread the quiet paths of humble pursuits, punctuality amply repays us for what little effort we make in its cultivation.

IT is an odd idea to turn Christmas-tide eating exhibitions at butchers' shops and poultry shops in a political direction. One poulterer in London exhibited a large turkey, and had written under it, "Not to be sold to Russia on any account." In Carlisle butchers' market at one of the stalls were hung two Sheep, dressed of course; one a beautiful and tempting object; the other lean-looking, with a long, artificially stretched, thin body and neck, very dark colored. The former was decorated with yellow ribbons (Conservative), with the inscription, "Bred by W. N. Hodgson, Esq., Newby Grange." The other was decorated with blue ribbons, with the inscription, "Bred by Potter, fed by Lawson."

A MOTHER'S INFLUENCE.—A man finds he cannot make his way in the world without honesty and industry, so that, although his father's example may do much, he has to depend upon his own exertions; he must work, he must be honest, or he cannot attain to any enviable rank. But the tender soothing of a mother, her sympathy, her devotedness, her forgiving temper—all this sinks deep in a child's heart; and let him wander ever so wide, let him err, or let him lead a life of virtue, the remembrance of all this comes like a holy calm over his heart, and he weeps that he has offended her, or he rejoices that he has listened to her disinterested, gentle admonition.

The Woodpecker.—We have seen planters killing the woodpecker for sport. They are regarded as a nuisance, because they peck holes in the shuck, and are charged with eating your corn. But in this last particular injustice is done them. If you will go to every ear they have pecked, and examine closely you find that a worm has been there eating the corn, but it is not there then because the woodpecker has taken it off the ear and swallowed it. Instead of eating your corn it will protect it from the worm. He is therefore, your friend and not your enemy, and you should not kill him.—Exchange paper.

DECORATIONS.—A witty Frenchman says that "a French major is a man who had three decorations. The third was given him because he had two, the second because he had one, and the first because he had none!"

HOUSE AND FARM.

New Lands for Orchards.—That the newly planted orchards do not flourish as well as those put out by our grandfathers, nearly all are willing to admit. If they come into bearing earlier, and and produce fruits of a superior quality, they are short lived and extremely liable to disaase. The old trees and old planters were ignorant of many of the ills that have befallen those that have since occupied their places. Many persons think that climatic changes have much to do with bringing about this "decline and fall" in the prosperity of the orchard, but there is little that tends to show that such is the case. Others who moved from the old apple regions of the East, think there are no soils here adapted to successfully growing the apple tree; but the truth is, the raising of apple trees in the East has become even more difficult than in the West. For very many years, Maine furnished a vast quantity of winter apples that did much, not only to supply the market in the Southern States, but in California and the West Indies. Orcharding became so profitable that many new trees were planted to take the place of old trees that were planted out seventy-five years ago, which bore as seedlings for a long time, and were then engrafted with the Black and Yellow Russet and Rhode Island Greening. But these new orchards, as a rule, do not flourish. For several years past apples from Michigan have come into competition with those grown in the valley of the Kenebeck, while old Connecticut and New Hampshire hard cider drinkers have drawn their supply from the same source. It is within the memory of the writer that apples were so plenty in many parts of New England, that fair cooking apples could be obtained for a dime a bushel, while cider went begging at seventy-five cents a barrel. Apples were then an important article of food for milch cows and stock hogs. Vinegar from cider was the only kind in use, while apple brandy was distilled in a large number of towns. What is the matter that the new apple trees do not flourish as of yore in the old Pine Tree State which was an Apple Tree State as well?—There are the same bleak winds, granite hills and crystal streams as in the days when Knox and Dearborn planted out their cider orchards. We believe the reason may be found in this: The old Trees were put on new land from which the forest had just been cleared away, while the new trees are put in old worn out soils that have been cropped from fifty to a hundred years. The roots of these young trees seek in vain for sustenance in soil from which not only the mineral salts but the vegetable matter has been abstracted. We have a scripture injunction not to put "new wine into old bottles;" and sound discretion should teach us not to put new apple trees into old land. We have lately seen quite a number of orchards set out in the west on lands that have been sown to wheat till they have failed to return anything like remunerative crops. We believe the plan to be a bad one. There is a good deal of expense incurred in setting out and tending for a series of years an orchard of apple trees, and it is intended to furnish fruit for no more than one generation, it is important that it be put to the best land that the farm affords. One life is long enough to make a series of experiments in orchard setting, after several failures have been experienced.—Prarie Farmer.

A Small Pox Remedy.—A correspondent of the Stock (California) Herald writes as follows:

"I herewith append a recipe which has been used to my knowledge in hundreds of cases. It will prevent or cure the small-pox though the pittings are filling. When Jenner discovered cow pox in England, the world of science hurled an avalanche of fame upon his head, but when the most scientific school of Medicine in the world—that of Paris—published this recipe as a panacea for small-pox, it passed unheeded. It is as unfailing as fate, and conquers in every instance. It is harmless when taken by a well person. It will also cure scarlet fever. Here is the recipe as I have used it, and cured my children of scarlet fever; here it is as I have used it to cure the small-pox; when learned physicians said the patient must die, it cured; Sulphate of zinc, one grain; foxglove, (digitalis,) one grain; half a teaspoonfull of sugar; mix with two tablespoonfuls of water. When thoroughly mixed, add four ounces of water. Take a spoonful every hour. Eeither disease will disappear in twelve hours. For a child, smaller doses, according to age. If counties would compel their physicians to use this, there would be no need of pest houses. If you value advice and experience, use this for this terrible disease.

Cleaning of Glass.—To clean Glass thoroughly and restore it's original lustre, after the ordinary methods have failed, recourse may be had to hydrofluoric acid, such as is sold by the chemical establishments in small guttapercha bottles. This is to be diluted with four or five times its volume of water. A few drops of the solution placed on a wad of cotton, and the surface of the glass thoroughly rubbed over with it, and then washed off with a good deal of water. The surface of the glass will be dissolved by this application a new one laid bare. This process is well adapted to restoring the brightness of lenses of spectacles or spy-glasses, dimmed by age. If a concentrated solution of this acid be allowed to remain for some time upon glass, a cavity will be produced remarkble for its brilliant lustre.

Some great burley counsellor once said to Curran, "if you go on so, I'll put you in my pocket."

If you do," said Curran "you'll have more law in your pocket than ever you had in your head."

The Bedford Gazette.

Friday Morning, February 26, 1869.

NO WONDER.

It is not at all strange that the voters of the Radical party in this county grope in darkness, considering they are fed upon such food as that served up to them in the Bedford Inquirer. We ask the candid men of that party to read the following printed in the editorial columns of that paper last week:

"THE beauties of a thoroughly Democratic government are just now being exhibited in New York city. Murder and crime of every kind is rife. The city government is either unwilling or utterly unable to remedy this deplorable state of affairs. Merchants and respectable business men of every calling are afriad to walk the streets in broad daylight, and never go unarmed. Within a few days past nearly a dozen cases of shooting or attempts to shoot by means of noiseless air guns are recorded and no clue can be found by which to detect the criminals. The best men of the city and some of the leading papers have begun seriously to discuss the propriety of establishing a vigilance committee as a last resort in self defence. So much for modern Democracy where it wields supreme power."

The editor of the Inquirer, in the above article, seeks to deceive his readers, by asserting that the government of New York city is "thoroughly Democratic." He knows better. He knows that the police regulations of that city are in the hands of a board of commissioners appointed by the Legislature of New York State. This board is Radical and appoints Radical officers and underlings. Not a single Democratic policeman carries a baton in New York city. Is this not so, Mr. Inquirer? Dare you deny it? Let us see now whether you are brazen enough to go on the record as disputing this incontrovertible fact.

If "murder and crime of every kind is rife" (excuse the grammar) as the Inquirer hath it, it is the fault of the Radical police, appointed by the Radical commissioners, who are selected by the Radical legislature at Albany.—The people of New York city have no voice in the choosing of the police to whom are committed the peace and good order of the city. The Radicals of the country districts, through their representatives in the State Legislature, save them all trouble on that score. Did not the editor of the Inquirer know that he was befouling his own nest when he wrote and published the article above quoted?

Yes, New York is governed from Albany, and the result is, to repeat the language of the Inquirer, that "murder and crime of every kind is rife" in the metropolis. It is now proposed that Philadelphia shall be governed from Harrisburg; that a police commission similar to that of New York shall be appointed by our State Legislature. The Inquirer is in favor of this, we presume, as the Radical State Committee, at its recent meeting at Harrisburg, endorsed the proposition. As this plan works so admirably in New York, according to the Inquirer, it will, of course, be adopted by our sapient and virtuous legislature. Then, if "murder and crime of every kind," should become "rife" in Philadelphia, it will be all set down to the account of the Democratic mayor, from whom all power over the police will have been taken and who will have dwindled into a mere presiding officer at the sessions of the city councils.

Again we say, it is matter of little surprise that the Radicals of this county are wrapped in Egyptian darkness, when their organ at Bedford deliberately blindfolds them as in the article copied above. Will not some of them tear Lutz's bandage from their eyes that they may see?

PAY OF LEGISLATORS.

The House on Tuesday night last refused by a very large vote to increase the pay of its members from one thousand dollars to fifteen hundred. Many members believe that if Congressmen receive five thousand dollars a year, the pay of a member of Assembly at Harrisburg should be increased so as to bear something like a just proportion to that of a representative at Washington.

There is no doubt that the people of the great State of Pennsylvania have always shown a willingness to pay their public servants liberally. For the services of intelligent, high-minded statesmen who know the rights of the State, and dare maintain them, a liberal compensation would be freely paid. But now when so many members of the legislature show an alacrity to transfer the power of the Commonwealth to the general government, their usefulness as public servants is closely scrutinized. When the general government proposes to establish monopolies to construct railroads through the State, and make them independent of the local legislature, and when that legislature exhibits a tame acquiescence in the usurpation, the people will not witness the proposition for an increase of pay without murmurs of indignation.

If the legislature shall transfer to the general government all control over the municipal affairs of the State, there is no need of legislators at such an extravagant salary as fifteen hundred dollars for a session of one hundred days. With no subjects of legislation higher than supplements to turnpike laws and the protection of sheep, two hundred dollars would be altogether too high a compensation for a member. Those legislators who are so willing to betray the rights and dignity of the State, should blush with shame when voting themselves a salary of fifteen hundred dollars. It is adding to the crime of treason to the people that of plundering them.

With the amendment to the Federal Constitution, taking from the State of Pennsylvania the power to regulate the suffrage of her own citizens, the general government controlling all the details of the election law; with Congress interfering with the railroad legislation of the State, and all other important public matters, what is there to warrant a member in asking fifteen hundred dollars for his insignificant services? Men enough can be had to pass sheep laws and regulate turnpike tolls at a much lower rate.

The time was when Pennsylvania was a power in the land. She was free, sovereign and independent, controlling her own affairs, and deciding for herself all questions of domestic concern. No member of her legislature in that day would have harbored the treasonable thought of giving up her rights to the keeping of a central government, to be organized at Washington. In Congress no man would then have been hardy enough to propose to invade her domain with a railroad, without as much as saying "by your leave." Her rights were cherished at home and respected abroad. In that time the services of the best men in the State were had, at a salary far below that which is now demanded. It was held to be high honor to serve the proud Commonwealth.

But a change has come. Under radical sway Pennsylvania has become a mere province—an insignificant prefecture, like that of France—bearing the same relations to the general government which the counties now hold toward the State. Servile members of the legislature are only too eager to record the decrees of the central power and rush to Washington for their reward. She has an executive styled a Governor, it is true, but not half the power of a Persian satrap. When Congress proposed to construct a railroad beneath the very windows of the executive chamber, he looked on in listless apathy, not daring one murmur of protest.

In this sad situation to which the Commonwealth is reduced, the refusal of the majority in the legislature to increase their pay, cannot be too highly appreciated by their constituents.—They had a decidedly clearer view of the value of the services of a member of the Pennsylvania legislature, than had those who voted in the affiamative. While there is no doubt that the services of patriotic statesmen vigilantly guarding the interests, and maintaining the honor and dignity of the great Commonwealth, would not be dear at a far higher salery than the advance demanded, it is true that for the subjects of legislation now to be left within the control of the of the State, the pay of a member cannot be reduced too low. In view of the fact that the only objects of legislation henceforth will be of the most trivial local character, it would be well to move for a reduction instead of an increase. Sheep laws, turnpike bills, game regulations, divorce cases and gas corporations will not require a higher order of intellect or much honesty in the legislator.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

The number of vacancies in the Forty-first Congress on the date of its organization will be thirty, in case Georgia is admitted, and thirty seven in case she is not admitted. The following States entitled to representation will be unrepresented; New Hampshire 3, Connecticut 4, Alabama 9, and one vacancy in Pa., Mr. Covode's district, where no certificate has been given by the Governor to either candidate, on the ground that there are no papers on which such certificate can be given. He will probably certify the facts to the House for its decision. In States not yet entitled to representation there will be the following vacancies: Virginia 7, Texas 4, Mississippi 5, Alabama elects August 5, 1869. The case of Georgia is very peculiar. By an ordinance of the constitutional convention, an election was provided for members of both the Fortieth and Forty-first Congresses. The same members were elected to each. They were admitted to the Fortieth Congress during the very last day of the second session, and are now in their seats. Their credentials for the Forty-first Congress have not been received. There is now much doubt whether the names of her members will be on the clerk's roll on the 4th of March next. Louisiana will also present a complicated case, but it is probable that their names will go on the roll, and that they will be objected to as they appear to be sworn.—Washington Republican.

[Correspondence to the Bedford Gazette.]

According to promise, we propose, from time to time, dotting you some city items, and thereby help your readers to pass away an after dinner hour. We will therefore give you gentle diet and a little salad occasionally in easy olive oil.

THE WEATHER.

They tell me you have had plenty fine sleighing in Bedford this winter; but down here "December's as pleasant as May," and we have seen but one sleigh hooked up in the whole season; and we only saw part of the box and one runner of that, as the horse took fright from the grit on bare stones, threw out the driver and ran away. But how elegant for the ladies on promenade! Chestnut street, these fine afternoons, is crowded with fashion and beauty. And how much the flower girls enjoy it! All along the thoroughfare, where beauty and business jostle, are seen miniature gardens of flowers, crocus, rose, geranium, heliotrope, &c., and you cannot help investing in a small, blushing rose to carry home for a certain nose which, if it is not Grecian, you think is the prettiest in the world. But flowers are not the only admiration. The boys too have their delight, for now and then we come across a not in the store windows, but live ones coming down the street. We had hoped from the severe caricatures of this style of dress, we should never see it except in Comic Papers and Valentines, but here comes one just now! It is amusing to notice the effect upon pedestrians. Many who never notice dress, stop and gaze, pass on with a shake of the head; the scented dandy twists his moustache and rolls up the white; and the lady who wears it don't appear to care what anybody thinks; only they do hate the boys who say naughty things as they pass along. Will the boys never learn to respect inventive genius? nor the sacrifices of those who would entail its benefits on posterity? The season for our

GRECIAN BEND,

SKATING RINKS

has been a blue as well as a warm one. An enormous building has gone up on Race and Twentieth, and one on Chestnut, but neither have realized. The former imported a cargo of ice from Maine, which, with the Meager brothers, gave a partial success. One fancy costume carnival closed the business, and the managers, we are told, are now consoling themselves in an ice house. The "Ball is up" as announced by the Chestnut Rink, is true in more ways than one.

THREE BALLS

is also a sign which we often see displayed along the streets where you can purchase articles which are cheap at half the price you pay. The rule to interpret them is, "Two to one you lose what you put in," and will apply to all those who send their money to lotteries, gift enterprises, &c., as we often see advertised. These glittering baits always cover a sharp hook.

MAYOR FOX.

We don't believe in politics in the administration of municipal affairs, and are therefore disposed to commend Mr. Fox in ignoring it in this instance. But since we have seen the attempt, which we fear will succeed, of a certain party to wrongfully foist upon this city a Metropolitan Police, against the sense and wishes of the people, we think this course is impolitic. The very men whom he now retains upon the police force are bled every week or two to the tune of five or ten dollars for the purpose of engnieering a bill through which will leave him stripped of power and the city to the mercy of a set of unprincipled scamps. Let him at once sweep the whole force from their positions, and with the same means used against him and the city, let him tax each of the thousand policemen ten dollars, and endeavor to defeat so iniquitous a project. Such at least is the kind of politics we learned in Bedford county, and where the peace and safety of the community is at stake, we believe in fighting the devil with fire, or beating his head with his own clubs. So far, however, the administration of affairs by Mayor Fox, who is a gentleman and a Christian, has given great satisfaction to good men of both parties. The only objection is the above instance which every right-minded citizen condemns. The city needs now, more than ever, an efficient force against the fearful increase of crime, and which will not abet it.

A FAIR

is on the move just now for the benefit of the Lutheran Orphan's Home; and it is designed to make it an immense one. The largest Hall in the city is to be secured and contributions are solicited from every part of the church. The Methodist Fair this winter for the "Old Man's Home" was a success, netting $20,000. The Lutherans want to do the same.

We have had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Gump of your place, and Mr. Ely, of Schellsburg, who are students at the University here. The lectures soon close. Also enjoyed a pleasant chat with Judge King and Mr. Shannon, of Bedford, at the Bingham, the other night. We hope, Mr. Editor, soon to enjoy the sight of your countenance here and see you looking as hale as a city corporation. More anon.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.

Mr. Morton, from the committee to notify the President and Vice-President elect of their election, submitted their responses accepting the offices. Mr. Cameron introduced a bill supplementary to the act to authorize a lateral branch of the Baltimore and Potomac railroad to enter Washington city. Mr. Sawyer called up the bill to pay the officers of internal revenue in the South who cannot take the oath, which was debated and then postponed. Several private bills were passed.

The House refused to concur in the Senate's amendments to the bill providing for universal suffrage. A large number of bills were introduced and referred, among them one by Mr. Butler to prevent restrictions on trade by State legislation, discriminating against the citizens of other States. This is intended to apply to a law of Maryland concerning non-resident traders. A bill was passed to allow the Northern Pacific railroad to issue bonds and borrow money for the construction of the road from Lake Superior to Puget's Sound. At the evening session of the House the tax bill was considered in committee of the whole, and an amendment adopted extending the time for the withdrawal of spirits from bonded warehouses from the 20th of April, 1868 to April 20, 1870, the whisky so kept to be subject to a tax of one cent per gallon monthly. The tobacco section was reached and the House adjourned.

WASHINGTON, February, 16.

The Senate passed the House bill to prevent the loaning of money on United States notes. The bill to give Mrs. Lincoln a pension was taken up, and, pending a motion to give her $5,000 per annum, it was laid over. The bill to repeal the tenure-of-office act was then taken up and discussed at much length.

The House passed the bill to remove the political disabilities of a large number of Southern citizens. The House last night after adopting several amendments, passed the new internal revenue tax bill.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

In the United States Circuit Court at Richmond Va., the scalawag, Judge Underwood, presiding, the case of Stevens, a negro, of Charleston, South Carolina, against the Richmond and Fredericksburg Railroad Company, for putting his wife in a second-class car by force after selling her a first-class ticket, was concluded. Underwood, in his charge to the jury, which was half black and half white, said: "Distinction on account of color was a relic of barbarism, which had been happily done away with even in that sink of iniquity, New York, where it had been tolerated longer than elsewhere to secure Southern trade." After an incidental statement to the effect that Virginians were given to drunkenness, and their clergy were not exempt from this frailty, the judge read several extracts from the Bible, and closed by instructing the jury to teach this company that they must not make distinction on account of color. The jury brought in the verdict for 1,600 damages for plaintiff.

A Pleasant Beverage,

A CERTAIN CURE

AND

PREVENTIVE OF DISEASES.

The ZINGARI BITTERS are compounded from a prescription of the celebrated Egyptian physician DR. CHEOPSUS, who, after years of trial and experiment, discovered the Zingari Herb—the most remarkable vegetable production, the earth, perhaps, has ever yielded—certainly the most effective in the cure of disease. It, in combination with the other valuable properties of which the Zingari Bitters is composed, will cure

Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Bilious Fever, Cholic, Colds, Bronchitis, Consumption in its first stage, Flatuleney, Nervous Debility, Female Complaints, Rheumatism, Dysentery, Acute and Chronic Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, Typhoid and Typhus Fever, Yellow Fever, Scrofula, Diseases of the Kidneys, Habitual Costiveness &c, &c.

In the PREVENTION and CURE of the above diseases, it has never been known to fail, as thousands of our most prominent citizens throughout all parts of the country will testify. Let the afflicted send for circular containing testimonials and certificates of those who have been cured after their cases have been pronounced hopeless by our best physicians.

HUNTINGDON AND BROAD TOP R.R.—WINTER ARRANGEMENT.—TIME TABLE.—On and after Sept. 16th, passenger trains will arrive and depart as follows:

An adjourned court is in session this week. The attendance is slim, and the business seems to be ditto.

Assistant Assessors will soon be after calling upon our citizens for incomes and special taxes. Be ye also ready!

On last Saturday the Lutherans of St. Clairsville took the initiatory steps to build a new brick church the coming summer.

We notice that the subject of supplying our public schools with libraries, at the expense of our State, is favorably discussed in many newspapers.

Our Supreme Court has decided that the seller is bound to make a deed, and as a deed without stamps is worthless, the seller is bound to furnish them also.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.—The best place to buy good brands of cigars and tobacco, is at Crouse's. Dan keeps up a reputation for selling none but the best.

Are you insured against loss by fire? If not, take out a policy at once at the Bedford Insurance Agency, Jno. G. Fisher, Agent. None but the best Companies represented.

The accommodating Regulator man, No. 2 Anderson's Row, is selling off his large stock of boots and shoes, queensware and glassware, &c., &c., at unprecedentedly low prices. Now is your time to buy.

INTERESTING DIALOGUE.—

Radical No. 1—Which is the organ of the "Republican" party of Bedford county, the Bedford Inquirer or the Bloody Run Press?

Radical No. 2.—Yes!

On last Saturday a vote was taken on the question of Postmaster for this Borough. A. S. Russell, J. G. Minnich and John Arnold were the candidates. The vote stood as follows: Russell, 170, Arnold 34, Minnich, 11. Russell's majority over both, 125.

The Reformed congregation of St. Clairsville have purchased four acres of land, adjoining the old church, for the purpose of making a cemetery.—Our informant tell us that no labor or expense will be spared to make the spot beautiful and attractive.

EGGS-ITING EGGS-AGGERATION.—It is now proposed to sell eggs by weight, instead of by the dozen. An exchange hopes not. Some eggs are very heavy—when they contain juvenile chickens; and to purchase poultry in that condition, at present prices, is by no means economical.

VELOCIPEDIANA.—The velocipede mania has fairly taken root in several of the cities of the country. It is all the talk, and already have schools been opened wherein to learn the knack of propelling and riding the curious but simple vehicle.

"Mud, mud, mud," is in everybody's mouth; and we have even seen it all over men's hats during the last week. Never have we beheld our streets in such wretched "stick-in-the-mud" condition. The bottom seems to have dropped out of some of them and gone to China.

SAW MILL BURNED.—On last Saturday night the saw mill of John Conrad, Esq., of Union tp., was destroyed by fire. Besides the mill the loss was increased by the destruction of shingles, seasoned lumber, &c. A lot of carpenter's tools were damaged. The fire is supposed to have originated from a stove in the mill in which fire had been during the day.

YOUNG HORSE THIEF.—Samuel Baily, a boy 15 years of age, stole a horse from Charles Stuckey, with whom he had been working, in Bedford tp., week before last, started off down the pike, and was overtaken about 3 miles east of Bedford, and the horse taken back. The boy then went back to Schellsburg, and on last Wednesday a week, stole a horse from the stable of Charles Colvin, and was pursued and overtaken near Johnstown, and arrested by Eli Rininger, brought to this place and lodged in Jail to await his trial.

The old hackneyed question, "Who discovered America" has been eclipsed by the following, which has become the subject of serious debate in every Radical meeting held in this county: "Which is the organ of the Radical party of Bedford county, the Bedford Inquirer or the Bloody Run Press? At last accounts the party was divided on the subject, the renegade Democrats taking sides with the Press and the regular "old lines" with the Inquirer. As soon as this troublesome question is disposed of, the novel one of "Which is the front end of a wind-mill" will be taken up. Elaborate essays have already been prepared by several young Rads on this all absorbing topic.

FIRE.—On last Saturday evening, about 8 o'clock, the usual quiet of our town was disturbed by the cry of "fire." This was occasioned by the discovery of fire in the splendid hardware establishment of Messrs. Hartley & Metzger, on the corner of Pitt and Richard streets. A large crowd of people was soon on the spot, the doors of the store were forced open, when it was found that the room was so densely packed with smoke that it was almost impossible to get near the fire, which was raging in the back part of the building. When the fire was reached, a liberal application of water soon conquered the destructive element. The loss sustained by the parties will reach in the neighborhood of $1,000, which is fully covered by insurance.

TOLL.—There are no less than six toll gates between this place and Somerset, going by the Somerset and Bedford Turnpike; that is a gate for every 6½ miles. If each gate keeper were made to use a shovel fifteen minutes in every twenty four hours, the road might be made passable. We doubt, however, whether these toll-houses were established for any such purpose. At any rate the road is now, and has been for several weeks, closed, at several points, by snow-drifts, which a little shoveling might remove. The toll, however, is the same, drifts or no drifts. We say to this company, keep open your road or close your toll houses.

AN ELECTION.—The Radicals of this neck of the woods, held an election on Saturday last, for the purpose of indicating their choice for Postmoster.—Mr. A. S. Russell received a large majority of the votes polled. Democrats are generally well satisfied with the result. Mr. Russell was a soldier who served his country faithfully, is a gentleman and will make an excellent Postmaster. He has been, during the last four years, clerk for Mr. Loyer, the present efficient Postmaster, who, though a Democrat, resigned some time since in favor of Mr. Russell, and secured the appointment of the latter by President Johnson. As the masses of the Radical party hereabouts have confirmed President Johnson's appointment, we presume the U. S. Senate will do likewise. "Our member of Congress" elect will scarcely object, although he and his immediate friends forgot to vote on Saturday last.

I want to rouse each sleepy head,
Who stand upon the brink,
Where yawning gulfs disclose the dead,
Who might, but did not, think.

I want to warn the living ones
Who blindly grope along,
Ye fathers, daughters, mothers, sons,
What perils round you throng!

Look out, my reader, are you free,
Or do you wear the mark?
Most all are blind and cannot see,
Yea, groping in the dark.

Catarrh, a demon in the head,
Consumption is its son;
Kills hosts, yea, countless millions, dead,
Perhaps you may be one.

That hacking, hawking, spitting, shows,
Catarrh effects your head,
Matter and slime in throat or nose,
Runs down your throat instead.

Your lungs and liver soon will show,
Consumption has its birth;
Catarrh, its sire, will feed it too,
'Till you return to earth.

If colds affect your head and throat,
ANNIHILATOR buy;
Now don't forget what I have wrote,
Or think this subject dry.

WOLCOTT'S ANNIHILATOR cures
Catarrh—the demon flies;
It saves the lungs, good health insures,
And Catarrh quickly dies.

I want to gratify my friends,
Who wish to understand
About PAIN PAINT, its use, its ends,
And why its great demand.

I want to show you, plain as day,
Why PAIN PAINT stops all pain,
That you may never have to say
"I'll not try paint again."

PAIN PAINT will cool but never stain;
Pumps inflammation out;
'Tis harmless on the breast or brain,
A trial stops all doubt.

When inflammation leaves the frame,
All pain will cease at once;
Remove the cause, 'tis all the same;
None doubts unless a dunce.

The pores will ope and drink PAIN PAINT;
Absorbents fill with ease;
Restores the weak, the sick, the faint,
The greatest skeptic please

Evaporation cools the place
As inflammation flies;
Hot blood at the absorbent's base
Makes PAINT in vapor rise.

'Tis thus PAIN PAINT removes all doubt,
Removes the very cause
By pumping inflammation out;
On this we rest our cause.

Wolcott's Pain Paint is sold at all Drug Stores; also, Wolcott's Annihilator, for the cure of Catarrh and Colds in the head. Sent by express on receipt of the money, at 181 Chatham Square, N. Y. N. R. L. Wolcott, Prop. feb26iw

THE

AMERICAN SHUTTLE

SEWING MACHINE!

Is retailed at a price within the reach of all. This Machine uses a straight needle, makes the LOCK STITCH (alike on both sides), has a self-adjusting tension, and can do every variety of sewing. It will hem, fell, bind, cord, braid, seam, built, tuck, ruffle, and gather; and will work equally well on silk, linen, woolen, or cotton goods, with silk, linen, or cotton thread.

THE

AMERICAN SHUTTLE SEWING MACHINE

—IS—

Our Agents will be supplied with duplicate parts of the Machine, in case of accident. It makes precisely the same stitch made by the Singer, Wheeler & Wilson, Howe, and Florence Machines. We are enabled to sell a first-class SHUTTLE MACHINE at a very low price, on account of its Simplicity, and consequent low cost of Manufacturing, in comparison with Complicated Machines.

THE GREAT

AMERICAN COMBINATION

Button Hole Overseaming

AND

SEWING MACHINE,

Its Wonderful Popularity Conclusive Proof of its Great Merit.

The increase in the demand for this valuable machine has been TEN FOLD during the last seven months of its first year before the public.

This grand and surprising success is unprecedented in the history of sewing-machines, and we feel fully warranted in claiming that

IT HAS NO EQUAL.

BEING ABSOLUTELY THE BEST

FAMILY MACHINE

IN THE WORLD,

And Intrinsically the Cheapest.

It is really two machines combined in one, (by a simple and beautiful mechanical arrangement,) making both the Shuttle or Lock-stitch, and the Overseaming and Button-hole stitch, with equal facility and perfection. It executes in the very best manner every variety of sewing, such as Hemming, Felling, Cording, Tucking, Stitching, Braiding and Quilting, Gathering and sewing on, (done at the same time,) and in addition, Overseams, Embroiders on the edge, and makes beautiful Button and Eyelet-holes in all fabrics.

Every Machine is warranted by the Company, or its Agents, to give entire satisfaction.

Circulars, with full particulars and samples of work done on this Machine, can be had on application at the Salesrooms of

OUR NEW FAMILY
SEWING MACHINE.

The superior merits of the "Singer" Machines over all others, for either Family use or Manufacturing purposes, are so well established and so generally admitted, that an enumeration of their relative excellences is no longer considered necessary.

OUR NEW FAMILY MACHINE,

which has been brought to perfection regardless of time, labor, or expense, is now confidently presented to the public as incomparably the Best Sewing Machine in existence. The machine in question is Simple, Compact, Durable and Beautiful. It is quiet, light running, and never before attempted upon a single Machine,—using either SILK, TWIST, LINEN OR COTTON THREAD, and sewing with equal facility the very finest and coarsest materials, and anything between the two extremes, in the most beautiful and substantial manner. Its attachments for Hemming, Braiding, Cording, Tucking, Quilting, Felling, Trimming, Binding, etc., are Novel and Practical, and have been invented and adjusted especially for this Machine.

New designs of the Unique, Useful, and Popular Folding Tops and Cabinet Cases, peculiar to the Machines manufactured by this Company, have been prepared for enclosing the new Machine.

A faint idea, however, can at best be conveyed through the medium of a (necessarily) limited advertisement; and we therefore urge every person in quest of a Sewing Machine, by all means to examine and test, if they can possibly do so, all the leading rival Machines before making a purchase. A selection can then be made understandingly. Branches or agencies for supplying the "Singer" Machines will be found in nearly every city and town throughout the civilized world, where Machines will be cheerfully exhibited, and any information promptly furnished. Or communications may be addressed to

NATURE'S GREAT RESTORER.

SCHEETZ'S CELEBRATED
BITTER CORDIAL.

This medical preparation is now offered to the public as a reliable substitute for the many worthless compounds which now flood the market. It is purely vegetable, composed of various herbs, gathered from the great storehouse of nature, and selected with the utmost care. It is not recommended as a CURE ALL, but by its direct and salutary influence upon the Heart, Liver, Kidneys, Lungs, Stomach and Bowels, it acts both as a preventive and cure for many of the diseases to which those organs are subject. It is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results It is a certain, prompt and speedy remedy for DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, BOWEL COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA, LOWNESS OF SPIRITS, FAINTINGS, SICK-HEADACHE, &c. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,
FOR THE RENOVATION OF THE HAIR.
THE GREAT DESIDERATUM OF THE AGE.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color and the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

HAIR DRESSING,

nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts longer on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,
For all the purposes of a Laxative Medicine.

Perhaps no one Medicine is so universally required by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For DYSPEPSIA or INDIGESTION, LISTLESSNESS, LANGUOR and LOSS of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For LIVER COMPLAINT and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or Green SICKNESS, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For DYSENTERY or DIARRHŒA, but one mild dose is generally required.

For RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, PALPITATION OF THE HEART, PAIN IN THE SIDE, BACK and LOINS, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For SUPPRESSION a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

MUSICAL DOINGS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming adeertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for many years,) of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet-toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal. jan15,'69.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this Sarsaparilla: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Miscellaneous.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometime subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

So generally are its virtues known that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

AYER'S AGUE CURE,
For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Billious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or traveling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.
